

EMPLOYEE COUNSELING AND DRUG TESTING

As your workers' compensation insurance agency, we recommend the following procedures and services to help minimize your workers' comp costs.

WHY SHOULD YOU CONDUCT DRUG TESTING?

Employees who abuse drugs and alcohol cause more than 40 percent of on-the-job injuries, and are more likely to steal to support their habit. Don't think that it can't happen in your workplace—about 70 percent of all adult illegal drug users are actually employed. So what can you do about it?

- Florida law allows employers to test employees for any and all combination of drugs listed within the statutes.
- Most employers choose the 5-panel test for combination drug use, consisting of tests for the presence of marijuana, cocaine, amphetamines, opiates and PCP. (A 10-panel test is also available.)
- Testing for alcohol is always an additional choice and is conducted by breath or blood test.
